Presidio Pop Up's Roster of Mobile Food and Beverage Vendors Expands at Presidio Tunnel Tops

Additional vendors and new fall menus ensure delicious cuisine celebrating the culturally diverse foods of the Bay Area, starting October 1

San Francisco, CA (September 27, 2022) – The Presidio Trust announces today that 17 new mobile food and beverage vendors will join an already impressive roster of 23 trucks, trailers, carts and tents offering food at Presidio Pop Up, seven days a week. The pilot program began operations at Presidio Tunnel Tops on July 17, 2022 at several locations, coinciding with the grand public opening of the new park destination. Preliminary estimates indicate the site has received nearly a half-million visits in the first two months of operation.

Says David Greenfield, owner of Satay by the Bay: “We’ve really enjoyed being out at the Presidio since July. You just can’t beat the location with those amazing views, and it’s been great seeing how happy our customers are with having a meal outdoors in a fantastic park setting.”

New this season – a new hub of Presidio Pop Up vendors has been added to the Main Parade Lawn, adjacent to the Presidio Visitor Center and Tunnel Tops entrance. Vendors continue to be stationed near the Outpost nature play area bordering Crissy Field, where families and children are active all day long, and several are located within the site at key visitor locations – the Crossroads Overlook and Presidio Plaza.

To enjoy food at Presidio Pop Up, visitors can take advantage of a multitude of picnic areas, lawns, benches, and tables on a first come, first-served basis at Presidio Tunnel Tops, the Main Parade Lawn, and elsewhere in the park. A glass pavilion by the Transit Center provides indoor seating with shelter and views. Visitors can also reserve a dedicated picnic table and BBQ grill at Picnic Place for a private occasion or larger group gathering on Recreation.gov.
